

Single-neuron amygdala affect–object contrast is bounded far below a detectable effect

